LECTURE

Dr. Rajeev Kumar Garg served as Chief Scientist and Professor at the Academy of Scientific and Innovative Research (AcSIR) at CSIR-Central Road Research Institute, New Delhi. He has 36 years of research experience in bridge failures in India, with major research interests in span bridges, power plant structures, buildings, microwave and transmission towers, and nuclear power plants. He has contributed to the development of Mobile Bridge Inspection Units (MBIUs). He was awarded the Innovation Award from NRDC (DSIR) in 2014 and is actively involved in standards bodies like BIS, IRC, and IABSE-TG1.5.
